These individuals would be contacts for specific state, relationships and publications. The dimensions of data cells that are small enough to identify particular individuals will be excluded from the data request. States design the tool used to collect these data. The database includes children aged 16 or less but it is more complete for children under 6 years of age. These files contain data on: functional state / health; Socio-economic; Ethria / gender; Other demographics / socio-cultural; Behavioral; And others (personal behavioral data relating to the main causes of premature death). It is expected that the additional states participate in the future as their surveillance systems have been developed. These files contain data on: ages / sex; Behavioral; and more (grade to school). Furthermore, the definitions of the breed / ethnic categories may differ from the state to state. When calculating the rates of ethnicity and race, the register must carefully document the methods with which the breed and ethnicity has been assigned, both in the numerator and in the denominator. *State: this continuous data collection is active, since January 1995 to October 2002. Furthermore, the total historical counts of NDSS incidence data for U.S. are presented for the last 30 years.
